

Evening Bulletin

VOL. 1. NO. 166.

HONOLULU, H. I., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1895.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

THE EVENING BULLETIN.

Published every day except Sunday at 809 King Street, Honolulu, H. I.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
Per Month, anywhere in the Hawaiian Islands.....$ 75
Per Year, postpaid to America, Canada, or Mexico.....10 00
Per Year, postpaid, other Foreign Countries.....13 00
Payable invariably in Advance.
Telephone 256. P. O. Box 89.

B. L. FINNEY, Manager.

A TERRIBLE CASE OF ECZEMA

CURED BY
Ayer's Sarsaparilla
Mrs. E. Wyatt, of Port Road, West Hindmarsh, So. Australia, writes of the sad condition of her little daughter, whose portrait she also sends:

"My daughter was afflicted with Eczema of the most aggravated type. The disease first appeared in eruptions on her head, then her hair began to fall out, and in spite of the best medical advice and treatment she grew steadily worse. The sores were full of matter and were extremely offensive. Her eyes became affected, and she was, in truth, in a terrible state. My neighbors were very sympathetic and took great interest in the case. They persuaded me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and I am most thankful to be able to say that this wonderful medicine completely restored my daughter's health. She has now as good a head of hair as anyone could wish, her eyes are perfectly well, and she is a fine girl of eight years with every prospect of growing up to be a strong and healthy woman."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA
Gold Medals at the World's Chief Expositions.

Hollister Drug Co., Ltd.
Sole Agents for the Republic of Hawaii.

Something Interesting!

Imports of Champagne Into the United States,

FROM JAN. 1ST TO JUNE 1ST, 1895.

	Cases.
G H Mumm & Co.'s extra dry.....	30,831
Pommery & Greno.....	11,798
Moet & Chandon.....	9,608
Heidsieck & Co., (dry Monopole).....	7,501
Louis Roderer.....	3,438
Ruinart.....	3,136
Perrier Jouet.....	3,286
Iroy & Co.....	1,785
Vve. Clicquot.....	2,378
Bouche Sec.....	992
Delbeck & Co.....	728
St. Marcoux.....	334
Krug & Co.....	270
Chas. Heidsieck.....	355
Various.....	5,419
Total.....	81,859

COMPILED FROM CUSTOM HOUSE RECORDS.

Macfarlane & Co.,

Sole Agents for G. H. Mumm & Co.
for the Hawaiian Islands.
124-1/2

VIEWS OF ADMIRAL WALKER

MANY MORE SHIPS OF WAR ARE WANTED.

Useless to Talk of War With Any European Power in the Present
Condition of the Navy.

WASHINGTON, November 14.—Admiral John G. Walker, who represents the progressive element of the new Navy, regards coast defenses and the Navy as complements of each other—that is to say, no great country can protect itself without both systems of defense.

"I am a good American," said Admiral Walker today, "but I cannot shut my eyes to the cold facts. We are not prepared today to engage in war with any first-class power. We are in the position China occupied in her recent struggle with Japan. We have a vast population, great wealth, boundless resources and intense patriotism, but we cannot maintain an offensive or defensive attitude against any one of half a dozen foreign countries. What General Miles says about the defenseless condition of our coast cities is entirely correct.

"It is true that New York and San Francisco are better protected than other commercial cities, but even they would be helpless against the assaults of powerful ironclads. So far as the remaining cities are concerned they have no protection whatever.

"Congress ought to make liberal appropriations for coast defenses and for additional ships of war. More than anything else we need a strong navy. If we had a dozen battle-ships of the Indiana class on the Atlantic Coast we would defy as powerful a maritime country as Great Britain. We have now four battle-ships building and two others have been appropriated for. We need at least seven more. If Congress would vote the money, two of the ships should be given to the Cramps, two to the Huntington yards at Newport News, one to the Union Iron Works at San Francisco and the others ought to be built in the navy yards at Brooklyn and Norfolk.

"With anything like a fair system of coast defense we would then be beyond the probability of war. There would be no more Corinto incidents; no more talk of foreign aggression on American soil. The United States would be pre-eminent on the American continent. The greatest preventive against war is to be fully prepared for it."

"What about the Pacific Coast?" "Three battle-ships would be sufficient for those waters, as the only probability of trouble there might be with the countries to the south of us, and three such vessels would amply protect us from their assaults.

"A battle-ship is not needed in times of peace, but it is indispensable in case of war. When not actively engaged it can be laid up in ordinary, and the police work of the ocean can be performed by small gunboats, which would not be effective in battle, but which are useful to carry the flag. This is the policy pursued by Great Britain, who sends her gunboats abroad, while her powerful ironclads, which are more expensive to keep in commission, remain on the home stations."

"Could Great Britain, for example, send all of her navy to the United States in the event of war between the two countries?"

"No; I doubt if she could send half of her vessels, for she cannot leave her interests in other parts of the world unprotected. But even a part of her great navy would be sufficient to give us great trouble, at the start, at least. On the other hand, if we met her with a dozen powerful battle-ships on the Atlantic coast, with such other resources as we would possess, we would no doubt win the struggle. Meanwhile, we would throw 500,000 men into Canada within a few weeks, so the fight would not be so one-sided as it might at first glance appear."

"But you think that at the present time England or any of the continental powers would have us at a disadvantage?" "Undoubtedly. It is less to talk about war with any strong European country in our present condition."

LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

Supplementary Items Collected From Coast Papers.

Lieutenant-Commander W. S. Cowles, United States Naval attaché at London, is engaged to Miss Roosevelt, sister of James R. Roosevelt, the Secretary of the United States Embassy.

Mrs. Edith S. Trowbridge of California is suing a New York boarding-house keeper for $15,000 damages for injuries sustained by the collapse of a folding bed.

Mrs. Stanford expects a favorable decision from the federal Supreme Court. She says the University costs her $1900 a day.

It is reported that the Congo Free State has paid $30,000 indemnity for the irregular execution of the British trade Charles Stokes, hanged last night at Lindi by order of Captain Lochair, a young Belgian officer, the claim being made that Stokes, who was an ex-missionary, had been guilty of selling arms to the natives without warrant of military or civil law.

Postmaster General Wilson has issued a general fraud order including all the alleged lottery companies, both in the United States and elsewhere, and directing all postmasters of the country to mark mail sent to these companies as fraudulent and return it to the senders.

The Panama Railroad Co. has drawn up contracts which are ready to be signed for the establishment of a new steamship line on the Pacific Coast and also one from New Orleans to Colon, and it intends, so it claims, to start in with a rate-cutting campaign at an early date unless the Pacific Mail Company within a few days accepts its ultimatum. It is said, however, that Mr. Huntington is now ready to make a compromise.

Archbishop Nicholas of the Russian church is visiting the United States.

W. F. Brooks, editor of the Nashville, Tenn., Daily Herald, has been sent to jail for contempt of court in refusing to answer questions relating to allegations made in the paper that the Sunday laws were openly violated.

Mrs. Potent, wife of the pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, New Haven, Conn., where the Christian Worker's Convention was lately held, at one of the sessions condemned Yale University as a place conducive to the ruin of young men.

Relevant Party.

Mention of the dancing and boating party given by the Healan Boat Club on the eve of Thanksgiving Day was omitted in the pressure on space in yesterday's issue. There were about two hundred people present, who had a fine time. President Lansing and other officers and members paid good attention to the guests. There was boating in the harbor with sail and oar, enjoyed by many. Refreshments were in abundance.

ANCIENT ADVERTISEMENTS

COPY OF THE FIRST ONE EVER PUBLISHED.

How King Charles of Great Britain
Advertised for the Return of His Dog.

A few words on advertising may be both amusing and instructive to readers of the BULLETIN, especially as the writer in looking over some exchanges recently came across some that are decidedly unique and are worth reproducing as literary curiosities. The following is the first advertisement ever published in a newspaper anywhere or in any language. It appeared in the London Mercurius Politicus in the year 1652, and to its author must be given the title of the "Father of advertising."

Monella Gratiani, an Heroic Poem: being a Congratulatory Panegyric for my Lord General's late return; summing up his successes in Exquisite manner. To be sold by John Holden, in the New Exchange, London Printed by Tho. Newcourt, 1652.

It is not known whether the enterprising author and publisher of the above heroic poem made fortunes or not, but from the fact of their advertising in a newspaper the presumption is that they both made large accumulations of the world's goods therefrom, died wealthy and their heirs squabbled over and squandered their estates as is now the fashion.

On the 28th of June, 1660, somebody seems to have stolen one of King Charles the Second's dogs and His Majesty caused an advertisement to be inserted in the same paper for his return, in which the canine was described as "a smooth black dog, less than a greyhound," which was to be returned to John Elles, or His Majesty's Back Stairs. The whelp, not being returned, a second and quite unique appeal for him is inserted:

We must call upon you again for a black dog, between a greyhound and a spaniel, no white about him only a streak on his breast, and a tail a little bobbed. It is His Majesty's own dog, and doubtless was stolen, for the dog was not born or bred in England, and would never forsake his master. Whoever finds him may acquaint any at Whitehall, for the dog was better known at court than those who stole him. Will they never leave robbing His Majesty? Must he not keep a dog? This dog's place (though better than some imagine) is the only place which nobody offers to beg.

It is believed that this was written by King Charles himself, as no one else would have used the familiarity with that monarch's name which pervades every line, and almost, indeed every word. There is much humor in it—"the dog was better known at court than those who stole him;" while the prevailing corruption and obsequiousness at court are felicitously hit off by the observation that "this dog's place (though better than some imagine) is the only place which nobody offers to beg."

In the year 1722 the "noble science of self-defense" was publicly practiced by women as well as men, and there was no jawing or backing and filling about it. Corbett and Fitzsimmons and their coterie might well take a lesson from the following advertisements which appeared in that year:

CHALLENGE.—I, Elizabeth Wilkinson, of Clerkenwell, having had some words with Hannah Ryfield, and requiring satisfaction, do write to her to meet upon the stage, and box me for three guineas; each woman holding half a crown in each hand, and the first woman that drops the money to lose the battle.

That Hannah knew how to "put up her hands" may be inferred from her reply:

ANSWER.—I, Hannah Ryfield, hearing of the resolution of Elizabeth Wilkinson, will not fail, God willing (to give her more blows than words—desiring home blows—and from her no favor—She may expect a good thumping.

The manner of deciding the battle proposed by Elizabeth Wilkinson must certainly have been satisfactory, much more so than the present system, but unfortunately the BULLETIN is unable to state whether Hannah Ryfield gave her the thumping she promised or not. It may be stated in conclusion, however, that the BULLETIN is the best advertising medium in Hawaii.

VISITING THE LEPERS.

Board of Health Leaves on Steamer
Keauhou for Molokai.

At 9 o'clock last night the steamer Keauhou left for Kalaupapa, with the Board of Health and party aboard. The occasion is the semi-annual visit of the Board to the Leper Settlement. The following named constituted the expedition: Board of Health—J. T. Waterhouse, president; H. E. Cooper, Minister of Foreign Affairs and ad interim Attorney-General; Dr. F. R. Day and David Kelipio; Charles Wilcox, secretary; C. B. Reynolds and J. D. McVeigh, officers. Invited—Miss Kate Field of the Chicago Times, W. R. Farrington of the Advertiser, Edward Towse of the Star, George Manson of the BULLETIN, J. R. Musick of Funk & Wagnalls Company, Doctors Russell, Capron, Hebbitt (U.S.N.), Cooper, Krystovich, Pratt, Ryder and Howard; Bishop of Panopolis, Father Pamphile and four Brothers; Senator H. Waterhouse, W. Luther Wilcox, interpreter, Deputy Attorney-General A. W. Carter, Principal Richards of Kanehameha Schools, Misses Bessie Reynolds and Jenkins. Mons. Vizzavona, French (acting) Commissioner, saw the Bishop and his party off. The expedition will return tonight, leaving Father Pamphile (the late Father Damien's brother) and the Brothers with the afflicted people.

To Study a Dwarf Race.

Professor Frederick Starr of the University of Chicago will leave on December 20 for Guatemala, to be gone about three months. "I will first go to Guadalajara, Mexico," he said, "to study the submerged city in Lake Chapala, and the 'Mountain Idiots,' inhabiting the mountains near by. This is a race of dwarfs which has been studied very little, and my intention is to try to determine whether these people are racially small or have become so by disease. I will have the assistance of Archbishop Gillon, an authority on dwarf races. In the interior of Guatemala pygmies are said to live in caves and holes in the ground, and speak languages not known to white men."

BAD OIL INVOICE.

Five Hundred Cases of Russian That Only Tests 107.

Mr. Barnes, the merchant, received by the S. S. Mount Lebanon from the Orient an invoice of 500 cases of Russian petroleum oil. The oil, on being subjected to the flash test only stood 107 degrees. As no oil can be sold lawfully under 115 degrees, the lot is unmarketable here. The importer has been trying to make arrangements with Mr. Emmeluth to have the oil taken out of the customs for fuel at the pineapple cannery, but, as a measure for such purposes failed to succeed in the Legislature, the probability is that these cases of low test oil will have to follow the ship Helen Brewer's load of oil out of the country. It is said that the invoice price of this Russian oil is $2 a case, for which full test Pearl oil can be got at wholesale.

IN THE HIGHER COURTS.

TWO DAYS OF THE CIRCUIT JURY TERM.

Sentences Passed by Judge Magoon—
Papers on File—Voluminous
Briefs in Water Case.

Kanakakai, charged with gambling, was called in open court, but there was no appearance of or for him. Deputy Attorney General Carter asked for a nolle prosequi, which was granted and the defendant was discharged.

Judge Whiting has ordered that letters of administration issue to Kahanaumakai under $2000 bond, for the estate of Mele Hoomeopule of Waialua, which is valued at $5000. Dickey for petitioner.

Judge Whiting sat beside Judge Magoon at the opening of the Circuit Court this morning.

J. M. Vivas and J. M. Teixeira, who had been found guilty of libel in their Portuguese paper, were fined $50 and $25 respectively and costs. Mr. Neumann, the prosecuting attorney, had asked for a light sentence.

Albert Lucas was brought up for sentence upon his pleas of guilty to three indictments for embezzlement from the Government. Judge Magoon had reason to believe that there were mitigating circumstances, and expressed regret that a young man of ability should be in such a position. The sentences were fines of two, three and three thousand dollars in each case, making an aggregate of $8000, with costs added.

Mr. Neumann has filed a bill of exceptions to the verdict for defendant in the case of A. M. Beattie vs. J. F. Morgan.

Briefs for defendant in Wong Leong and others vs. W. G. Irwin, the Waimanalo water case, are filed and occupy 43 typewritten pages.

Mary Kaonka has been granted a petition to summon the heirs at law of the late Keaka, w., of Waialua, died intestate, to appear and show their claims for sharing in the distribution of the estate.

P. H. Kahau and Kapela Kahau have brought a bill in equity to redeem a mortgage against C. W. Booth, trustee for Elizabeth K. Booth nee Baker, legatee and devisee under the will of Malie Kahai. An interlocutory injunction has been granted by Judge Whiting to restrain the defendant from prosecuting his suit against plaintiffs for the possession of the mortgaged property, which is land on Queen street.

Judge Whiting was hearing divorce cases this forenoon.

TO NG HAWAIIANS INSTITUTE

Program of the Benefit Concert to be Given Tonight.

Following is the program of the concert to be given by the Young Hawaiians' Institute this evening for the purpose of procuring funds to form the nucleus of a library. The object is a most worthy one and a good attendance is hoped for:

1 March	"Festival"	Orchestra
2 Chorus	"Polipumehana"	Y. H. I.
3 Vocal Solo	"Changchong"	Jas. McGuire
4 Overture	"Poet and Peasant"	Mandolin Solo by U. J. Ordway, with guitar accompaniment by J. Hennessy
5 Song & Chorus	"Lei Poi Mo!"	Y. H. I.
6 Overture	"The Cavalier"	Orchestra
7 Chorus	"Ua like no me a'u"	Y. H. I.
8 Gavotte	"Dearest"	Orchestra
9 Duet & Chorus	"Ua like no me a'u"	Y. H. I.
10 Vocal Solo	"Violeta"	W. J. Corlie
11 Chorus	"Adios, adios"	Y. H. I.
12 March	"Turner"	Orchestra

Hawaii Poul.

City Carriage Co., J. S. Andrade, manager. If you want a hack with good horse and careful driver ring up Telephone 113, corner of Fort and Merchant street. Hack at all hours.